Fitch to the stage literature of today. He has treated half humorously, half seriously, wholly realistically, a certain phase of every-day life in New York's "400." The dressing of the women throughout the play is notable, and the scenic company is the first to give melodrama at popular prices. The experiment proved so successful that the management have added to their already large repertoire more successes, and for the first time this season will present a list of plays as follows: dramatic organization of unusual strength. The cast has been arranged as follows: Richard Sterling, Charles Kent; Edward War-"Bound by an Oath," "The Mystery of Wood-lawn," "The Senator's Daughter," "Utah" and den, James Carow; Frederick Mason, Bennett Sturgia; Johnny Trotter, Frederick Peters; Dr. Steinart, George Stevens; Godesby, Edmund Lusmany others. Many of these plays will only be seen with this organization. The management have spared neither pains nor expense in selecting this line of plays. The company has been selected with great care and is headed by Miss Gertrude Shipman and Mr. Lawrence B. McGill, Mrs. Sterling, Jennie A. Eustace; Jessle Hunter, Elizabeth Barry; Clara Hunter, Marian Berg; and many well-known members of the profession.

The plays are mounted with great care, special attention being paid to detail. Special seemle and mechanical effects are carried for each play, and the vandeville features are a decided novelty and Elizabeth Barry: Clara Hunter, Marian Berg; Miss Hunter, Ethel Winthrop; Miss Godesby, Marion Giroux: Miss Sillerton, Maude Rean Stover: Thompson, Lillian Wright; Marie, Maizie a direct departure from anything ever seen with popular-priced organizations. "For Home and Honor" will be the opening bill, and is one of the strongest in the repertoire, being presented entire, with the full strength of the company, Ladies' tickets for Monday night.

Benefit for Employes.

why he was bringing out new plays each year, while there was still a great demand for "Old innosence," Tim Murphy said, "I do not wish to become identified with one part, and besides I look upon "Old Innocence" as ready capital—or Beginning with a Monday matinee the Star theater will throw open its doors for the first three days of next week for the benefit of the so much eash in hand. Like all actors who are starring, I am never sure that a new play will prove a success. It may read beautifully and its employes. Manager Herrington, has secured the "I topian Burlesquers," which is under the management of T. W. Dinkins, who is also the manager of the "Innocent Maids." It is an organization of clever comedians and handsome girls author be well known and although carefully re-hearsed and expensively staged it may fail to please the public. So far I have been bucky, but if this state of affairs should come about I can put "Ohi Innocence" on at short notice and which for years has ranked among the strongest and best burlesque aggregations before the public. The entertainment by this company will be could fill out an entire seesen, both to my own and m.mager's satisfaction. It is a valuable piece of property, and my tour this spring is in reality to fill premises I have made to managers whose bright, breezy and sparkling with new novelties, from curtain to curtain. The highly amusing farcical skits serve as happy yebicles to bring on patrons have been asking for it."

Mr. Murphy's appearance in this city will be at the Lyceum on next Monday night. and unload the specialties—a lot of bright and versatile performers.
